Our Dearest daughter and sister Jessi,

The day that brought you into our lives has always been a source of special memories. As we look back fondly on your first steps, you kept on walking and all the other memorable milestones we have passed together since then. These memories grow more precious every day, month and year, partly because our "little girl & little sister" is all grown now, but mostly because of the remarkable young woman you've grown up to be. Keep your sights high and you can accomplish anything. It's only natural to tell you how much love you have brought into our lives and how very much you're loved in return.

Congratulations on your graduation and may God bless you always,

Love Mom & Dad

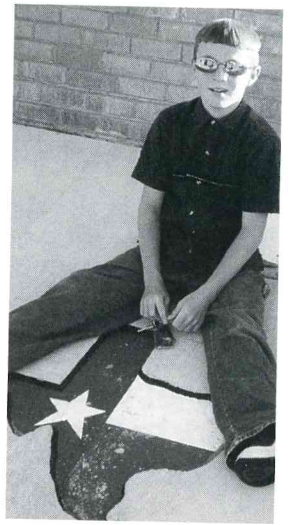
Rocky,
Through the years we've watched you grow.
From the days singing of "God Bless the USA"
To you making the decision to help protect the USA.
From chasing the girls at preschool on your tricycle
To see what a gentleman you've become.
From being our ornery little brother.
To being the best Uncle Rocky in the world.
From being a great brother and son.
To becoming the greatest young man any of us could wish for!
We are all so proud of what you've accomplished and what your future holds.
Always remember to keep your goals high and reach for the stars!
We Love You!
Mom, Dad, Leslie and Bubba



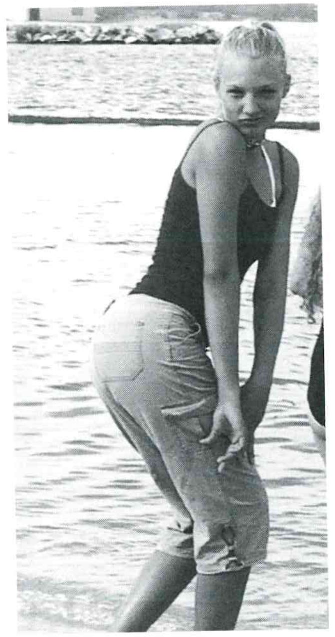
Taura,

I started to look for a quote about dreams, then I realized that you have never lived in dreams- You have always lived.

"May you live everyday"
Jonathan Swift

Everyone gives advice to their graduate. We know that you are ready for the next phase of your life. We are so proud of you and the person you have always been. The only thing I would say (Mom) is, find joy in being a woman. OK here is Dad's advice to you, "Life is tough but it is tougher when you're stupid" (quote from John Wayne) Work hard and finish college. Love Dad. Jessi's turn!! Fulfill your goals and work hard at college. Love ya!! Chance says, "Bye Taura, I will miss you, you're a great sister". Bean has a bit of advice, "Don't try to make fetch happen, it's not going to happen."

We all love you and know that all your plans for the future will come to pass.



Ashli,

You've brought such joy into are lives!
We're so proud of you !
